Class comments: A solid class with the higher medal winners shining but many simple inert wines failing to get a medal. The hot late January and early February in the Eastern states did not help this variety. Overall though not too bad.

Judges: Russell Cody, Annabel Holland, Simon Nunns, Lucy Kendall

Entered: 10

Class comments: Tidy little class with much discussion on whether a gold was worthy. . Two wines were right up there but did not get the nod. Cab Sauv needs to be made to nullify the intensity of tannins and winemakers are starting to do this but still more focus is required.

Class comments: Good class of different styles. Tempranillo has a good future in Australia but needs to be watched to curtail the aggressive tannins. Malbec shows enormous promise in cool climate regions of Australia and needs to be looked at seriously for future plantings.

Entered: 29

Judged: 29

Class comments: A tough class with a lot of discussion on whether a wine was gold worthy or not
In the end no golds were awarded.
Most non award wines were too extracted or advanced
Higher award wines were showing good fruit and tannin but the oak was a little over the top.
